Flynn Mayan Gaisie

Jeanne Willis and Brian Fitzgerald

Queenie (queen of Twist Street) has no owner, and answers to no-one.

Queenie is a street cat, feisty and independent. But one day she is chased by the neighbourhood dogs and cannot get away. She takes her chance when Mr Domingo opens his door – and ends up with both a safe home and a loving owner – or does Mr Domingo become her pet?

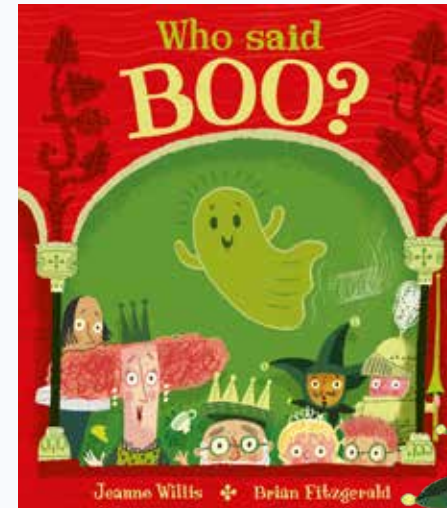

Autumn 2026
216 x 279, 32pp
Age 3-6

- Exciting story where danger gives way to safety
- Emotions ranging from fear to hope, kindness and love
- A celebration of 'belonging' on your own terms
- Fresh and bold text and art
- Debut picture book

FLYNN MAYAN GAISIE is originally from Cape Town, South Africa and is currently based in Cambridge, UK. Flynn completed his BA (Hons) in Graphics and Illustration at Cambridge School of Visual and Performing Arts in 2024, winning the New Designer's award 2024.

Once there was a green castle. Everything inside was green – the door, the carpets, even people's clothes. But there's a problem! There's also a naughty little ghost who likes frightening everyone, and nobody can see him because he is also green!

Each character who gets a fright from the ghost blames someone else, until the jester finds a simple solution that will uncover the real culprit.

September 2026
275 x 240, 32pp
Age 3-6

- Children will love spotting the green ghost hidden on each page
- The repetition of 'boo!' will get children interacting with the story
- Readers will enter into the fun, and side with the ghost, whilst realising he's naughty and must be stopped
- Treats bad behavior and blaming others in a humorous way

JEANNE WILLIS'S texts have sold in many languages, and won awards including the Smarties Prize (Silver), Sheffield Children's Book Award and Red House Children's Book Award.

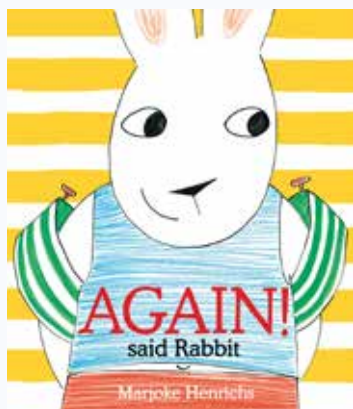

BRIAN FITZGERALD is an Irish illustrator who studied at the National College of Art and Design in Dublin and won the Bologna Fair International Silent Book Competition in 2014.

The third book featuring this loveable Rabbit, exploring the emotions in a young child's world.

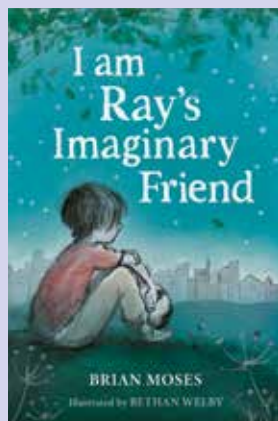

Rabbit is off to the seaside for the day – this time with his mum and dad. He wants to build sandcastles, play football, and fly his kite. Then again. And again! When things stop going his way, will his day be ruined?

- Young readers will love to join in with the repeated refrain 'Again'
- All days at the seaside have ups and downs – a universal experience for adults and children
- Rabbit's rollercoaster emotions are handled gently by his parents
- International appeal with books sold in 18 languages

A moving but humorous chapter book in verse, with themes of anxiety and acceptance.

Ray loves life in his village until one day he hears his parents talking about moving away. Traumatized by the idea, Ray invents an imaginary friend to talk to and even runs away. Eventually Ray is able to accept the move, and also the refugee mother and child who come to live with his family in the new house.

- The narration being by the imaginary friend is both original and brings much ironic humour to the story
- Free verse format makes for easy reading, creating space for the feelings experienced by Ray
- Illustrations by V&A Award short-listed Bethan Welby
- Author is a well-known poet, with sales in excess of one million copies.

First in a new graphic novel trilogy featuring young kittens Tangle and Eno, and their new and neuro-divergent friend Pelly.

On their first day at a new school Tangle and Eno are a little anxious! They soon acclimatise, but Pelly arrives late, and seems strange to all the other kittens. She doesn't fit in and starts missing school, so Tangle and Eno go on a mission to help her. Rejected at first, and after some ups and downs, they become firm friends!

- Graphic novel page layout that's easy to read.
- A storyline that welcomes a neuro-diverse character but is a fun narrative for a general audience, with lots of humour, empathy and inclusiveness
- Core age is 7-10, but will be appreciated by older children struggling to integrate
- Boy and Girl characters deal with new experiences, anxiety, feelings, friendship and community

- Lots of fun extra features like a map of the school, Cat school rules, lesson plans, a Cat Herbarium, etc

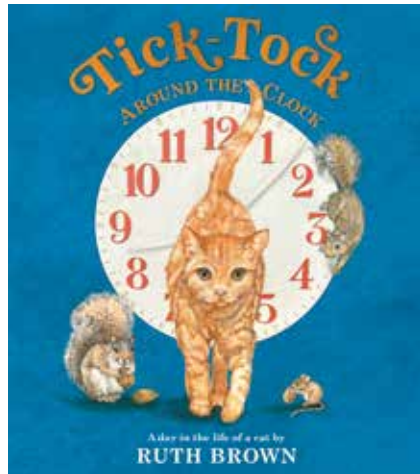

ROSE ROBBINS is known for her appealing and mainstream books about differently abled characters. Rose's books have been shortlisted for the Waterstones Book Prize, nominated for the Kate Greenaway Medal and included in the IBBY 2021 collection of outstanding books for young people with disabilities. Rose's brother is autistic, she teaches autistic young people, and has been an Inclusion Ambassador for Inclusive Minds.

Bear loves to dance, he practises all day long. But one thing bothers Bear – he's always dancing by himself – and some dances are better with two . . . Will he ever find a perfect dance partner?

With warmth and humour, this delightful picture book explores the importance of connection and friendship.

- A book for both boys and girls, about the joy of dancing
- Warm, friendly and colourful pictures of the forest and all the animals
- Questions what perfection is?
- Shows we must not be fixated on existing ideas, but open to new ones
- Highlights the value of self-expression as opposed to slavishly following tradition
- Enjoys all the fun of dancing, from tutus to ballet shoes, to exploring famous dance types

Wolf lived on a plinth in a tired old square on the edge of a vast and magnificent city. Taken for granted and pooped on by Pigeon, she longed to be admired and to find her place amongst the important statues in the City Centre. So, one day she set off on the bus to do just that . . .

- Gorgeous colour and soft, attractive artwork from a debut author and artist
- An appealing main character who goes on a quest for fulfilment
- Explores the need to be appreciated, and the importance of finding out where you belong
- Humorous, with a dig at vanity and selfishness

'A beautiful resonant fable about memory, love and hope – brought to life with luminous illustrations' CHRIS RIDDELL

Grandpa, tell me the story again of when we went to sea.

That's a BIG story, One-Button.

How does it begin?

It begins with the uprooting . . .

And so Grandpa tells the story of how he and One-Button and their whole community were uprooted from their everyday lives, and how they all had to take to sea in different boats. Until one day everything changed, and they were able to return home and resume their previous lives... different, but the same.

- A wonderful tool to help enable a conversation about so many topical traumas: refugees, flooding, lockdown and also bereavement
- Told in an accessible question and answer format
- Powerful, quirky and moving: poetic use of language, full of metaphor
- Illustrated with wild, evocative but also re-assuring and humorous pictures by a prize-winning illustrator

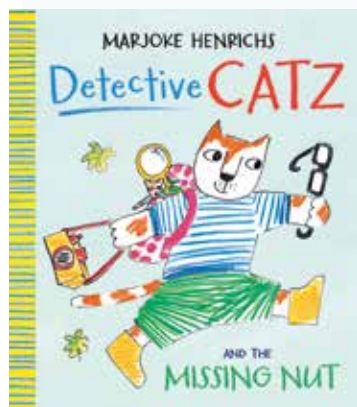

SARA STANLEY is an Early Years Consultant specialising in philosophical storyplay in the UK and South Africa. She has worked with displaced families in France and is also a bookseller

VIVIANE SCHWARZ has written and illustrated many picture books which have won awards including two shortlistings for the CILIP Kate Greenaway, winner of the 2016 Little Rebels Award and UK IBBY Honour List nominee in 2018.

A confidence boosting tale where being kind along the way is shown to be equally important as personal success.

Catz is determined to prove himself as a detective – but nothing seems to be going his way. He decides he has failed, but he has also failed to notice all the good he has done along the way!

Luckily our hero does not give up, and, cheered on by his friends, a combination of new evidence and new determination enable him to focus and fulfil his dream!

- All the fun of being a detective with magnifying glasses, searching for clues, hiding, and mystery solving
- Empathy and kindness: noticing something is wrong and putting it right
- Shows that success may be measured in different ways
- Teaches about patience, determination and self-confidence in an uplifting way
- Visual literacy as the reader follows sub-plots in the colourful and energetic pictures
- Henrich's previous titles sold in 14 languages

When a small group of children befriend a stray dog, the entire community is inspired to become involved.

Elki does not have a home – she is a stray dog who finds kindness in the company of a little group of children. They play together during the day, but Elki must stay alone outside every night because dogs are not allowed in their block of flats. One day Elki disappears and is found injured. Who will look after her and how?

- Shows how one act of kindness can change the attitude of other people
- An uplifting book about feeling empathy for someone in need and taking action to help
- An example of how good citizenship should work, where the duty of caring is owned by everybody
 - Gentle illustrations set the scene and beautifully show the bond between Elki and her found family
 - Elena wrote the story for her fellow artist and friend Tonka Uzu whose childhood memory this is

ELENA AREVALO MELVILLE is originally from Guatemala and now lives in Cambridge. Elena is the author and illustrator of the prize-winning picture book Umbrella.

TONKA UZU was born and raised in Sofia, Bulgaria and lives in Cambridge. Her book Olga and Olaf in Spiaggia was a finalist in the Nati per Leggere Award 2020.

There once was a bear who had nothing to wear
And normally, teddy bears don't really care,
They're happy to dress how you want them to dress
But Albie was not, I am bound to confess.

Albie insists on choosing his own outfits, but which one will suit him? On Monday he's dressed as a baby, on Tuesday as a prince, on Wednesday a fairy queen, on Thursday a cowboy... but he doesn't feel right in anything!

Albie eventually realises that the most comfortable outfit is the most natural one – his own fur.

- Celebrates all the fun of dressing up and trying out different identities
- Life-affirming as Albie eventually discovers that he prefers just to be himself
- Teaches the days of the week
- Hints at the waste caused by buying too much
- Hilarious and energetic illustrations

When Flynn applies for the job as cabin boy on the Black Hound, he doesn't expect it to be a pirate ship. But soon he's setting sail for the Seven Seas, on a perilous quest to recover ancient treasure bound by a magical curse...

In book two, a priceless golden chalice has been stolen from Fergus McSwaggers, fearsome chief of the squelchy Bog Islands ... and he wants it back!

And finally in the last volume, the Countess of Bohemia's jewels have been stolen by a ghost. Not just any old ghost, but the ghost of Captain Scarletbeard, the scariest pirate who ever lived! Flynn and the crew of the Black Hound descend the murky depths to Davy Jones's Locker, where they uncover a ghoulish plot that threatens the survival of the Seven Seas...

It's a brilliant twist on pirate stories, combining all the best bits – think treasure maps, swashbuckling, suitably grumpy pirate cooks, walking the plank, pirate grog – with a mystery thriller narrative' THE BOOK ACTIVIST

'Has a timeless, classic feel ... illustrations that really have the wow factor' BOOK TRUST
