

Take a Story Stroll

Uncle Jerome and the children go on a long walk together. Where is your favourite place to walk and why?

Along the way, Uncle Jerome and the children stop to use their senses to notice what is happening around them. They see, hear, feel, smell and even taste things on their walk. Can you remember which of their senses they used to find which things?

Why not plan a story walk of your own, where you try to notice the different sights, sounds, smells and textures that are around you? You could even plan a snack to take with you! Try to remember what you hear, see, smell and feel. Can you use these to create your own story to tell or a picture to draw?

Here is a top tip, Uncle Jerome and the children spend some of the time tiptoeing on their walk. You can spot far more things when you walk slowly like this. Try it for yourself!
